THE POSSIBILITIES OF THE FUTURE.

The formation of the Republican party, fifteen years ago, was the outgrowth of an idea. God-fearing and conscientous men abandoned the Whig and Democratic parties, not for the sake of office or to achieve selfish ends, but to restrain and finally to abolish human Slavery. Thus the Republican party, at its very birth, contained an overwhelming majority of good, honest and progressive men, who earnestly sought to free the nation from its great crime. It is true a number of corrupt camp-followers joined it subsequently in the hour of triumph, and these eleventh hour converts frequently were placed in positions of trust, but the masses of the party are to-day, as they formerly were, earnest and intelligent men, whose patriotism, courage, perseverence and unselfishness, have been tested by the fiery ordeal of a most bloody civil war.

The Republican party, when it came into power in 1861, was pledged to "Free Speech," "Free Men," and "Free Homes," and to the preservation of the Union. It was met at the threshhold with a bloody civil war, foreign complications, and fierce partisan opposition, which tested alike its patriotism and statesmanship. It not only carried the country safely through the crisis, without the loss of prestige or diminution of personal liberty, but it fulfilled all its pledges, and went further in the direction of justice to all men without distinction of birth, race or color than its most enthusiastic organizers expected. Among the very first official acts of its existence was the passage of the Free Homestead act, which President Buchanan had vetoed. The abolition of Slavery, the establishment of Free Schools, where under the rule of slavery none could exist either for the whites or the blacks; the enfranchisement of the colored workingman, the introduction of free discussion at the Nation's Capital and in the South, followed each other in rapid succession.

With the advent of the Republican party, a new era dawned upon the United States. The brutality and ignorance which ruled the country with a lofty assumption of gentility were banished; and real knowledge, true christian gentility and aspirations for a higher and better future, took their place. The Republican party not merely banished physical slavery, but that mental slavery and lethargy, which, parrot-like, repeated stale phrases.

True to the past and its instincts for reform, the Republican party has introduced numerous measures of reform, which we propose to discuss in subsequent articles. Prominent among these is the project of Mr. Hoar, for a Commission to examine into the wants of the laboring men, so as to discover precisely what they want, and what practical measures are necessary for their welfare. The working men constitute the real nobility in the United States, and if they are happy and contented every class of society will share the benefit.

The Republican party is chiefly composed of working men, and its mission is therefore, to devise ways and means of administration which will enable the physical worker to obtain the full value of his handiwork. It may take long and serious investigation and earnest discussion to discover the true way, but judging from the past, we believe the party to be equal to the task, and America will remain as it now is the paradise of the worker.

The new era is everywhere opening up new vistas of duties and opportunities, and we are fully convinced that the cause of the labor movement is best served by a close alliance with the Republican organization.

GENERAL HARNEY, who signalized himself at the outbreak of the war by entering into some sort of an unauthorized and unpatriotic agreement with the rebel General Price, instead of fighting him, as he was expected to do, is reported to be troubled about the condition of the South under the administration of Gen. Grant, and thinks the only hope for the country is with the Conservatives and Democrats of the day.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AND PRESIDENT GRANT.

Fifteen years ago the Republican Party came into existance.

It superceded, and took the place of the old Whig party, that had as clean and patriotic a record as any political organization that ever existed and flourished upon the earth. The Whig party did not die out and give place to the Republican party, because of any stain upon its escutcheon—or want of purity and patriotism in its principles.

In the progress of time and events it had lost prestige by defeats and misfortunes as a party, so that in taking advanced grounds, its leaders thought it wise to change its name without a change of principles. Many of the best and purest minded members of the Democratic party embraced this opportunity of leaving a party that has become corrupt in its practices and unsound in its principles—attaching themselves to this old party that took the name of Republican, and advanced to higher grounds and refinement of principles in true democracy, man's capacity for self-Government and more perfect Liberty.

Still the old Democratic party had such a hold on the people that it elected its President in 1856. And, in fact, it seemed that nothing short of the shock of an earthquake would move the minds of the American people from its attachment and adherance to the Democratic party. That shock came in the shape of the Rebellion in eleven of the states in the Union, and the inauguration of a civil war, that shook the country from its centre to its circumference. The chief magistrate elected by the Democratic party, not only favored the Secession of these eleven states, and the dissolution of the Union, but aided and abetted them in their work of treason, and as the head of the Government and commander-in-chief of the army of the United States—raised childish and pitiful cry, "that he had no power to coerce a State." It was well for the cause of Liberty and the preservation of the Union, that this fossil and weak head of a corrupt and treacherous party went out of power just then, and gave place to a live, and patrotic man, elected by the Republican party—whose motto was "preserve the Union at all hazards" crush the Rebellion—and wipe out Slavery!" An appeal was made to the patriotism of the people, and all these things were done—though most bitterly [and] strenuously and traitorously opposed by every means in the power of the Democratic party.

This party gave aid and comfort all through the bloody war to the rebels in every way in their power, except to go in the field and fight for the wrong and bad cause they had espoused. Knowing for the downfall and ruin of their country—they were too cowardly to go into the field and fight in the bloody war that was raging. But the leaders of these same traitors and cowards have the effrontery and brazen impudence to stand up to-day, and ask to be entrusted with power and the government of the country, and with the preservation of the Union they labored so hard and so long to destroy and break up.

A few (some ten) who were on the Republican side during the dark days of the Rebellion, now holding seats in the Senate of the United States—we are sorry to see and say, are reaching out their hands to their Rebel leaders and trying to keep alive this treacherous, cowardly Democratic party by giving them aid and comfort, and even a faint hope of success. God have mercy on them! They are no better than Jeff Davis! and their names will go down to posterity as a stench in the nostrils of all true patriots and lovers of Liberty.

If their ambition and lust for power, or desire for revenge, lead them to this ruinous course in the face of all that is fair and honorable—patriotic and true, occuping the high position that they do and having their record on the side of the Union, again we say, God have mercy on them, for if they persist in their wicked course, they must fall under the ignominy and contempt of their country and sink into the perdition of infamy—not only as disorganizers of the Republican party—but as enemies to their country in working to put the Rebel party in power.

FISK's brain weighed fifty-eight ounces. Daniel Webster's weighed but fifty-three ounces and a half. The great Cuvier had sixty-four ounces and a half, while Prof. Abercrombie possessed sixty-three. Ruloff, the murderer, who was executed at Binghamton last spring, had fifty-nine ounces of brain.

DEAD!

James Fisk, Jr., whose highest gratification it has been to lead a sensational life, yesterday morning died a sensational death. His murder seems to have been a wilful, deliberate, and wholly indefensible crime, the murderer literally, in the quaint language of the law, shooting with malice aforethought and instigated by the devil. It is to be hoped that justice will overtake him, even in New York, and that his conviction and punishment will be prompt and sure. The execution of Stokes will surely rid the community of a man who has not only forfeited the right to live, but whose very living is dangerous to its peace and safety.

Fisk's death, in all its tragic and wretched features, is an impressive lesson for the hour. His life and example have been baneful, and the manner of his taking off was perhaps needed to point the moral for the thoughtless and easily dazzled. With all his seemingly brilliant success, with all his wonderful tact and power, with all his resistless energy and infinity of resource, his life has been a misspent, fruitless, disappointed one. He achieved notoriety at the cost of character, and everything he plucked turned to ashes in his hands. It is well for our youth to learn that all apparent success purchased at the cost of conscience is worthless, that the respect of good men is better than riches, that conspicuousness may only be vulgarity and shut the doors of society instead of opening them. With all his power and retinue of servants and sycophants, Fisk was a man without influence; for influence is the measure of confidence had in the person exercising it, and rests on a moral foundation. With all his money and ships and titles, reputable society had barred its doors against him, and he was literally driven to the company of the outcast and homeless.

On the market to-day Fisk's death will be recorded in the figures of the stock list. His reckless daring and speculative tact led him to dabble in nearly every operation, and his style of dabbling was a wild dash that in other men would have been thought insanity. And even here on the tables of the money-changers the lesson of his life and death is plainly read. Were Mr. Thomson, or Mr. Scott, or Mr. Gowen to die, Pennsylvania and Reading would probably go down the next day in sympathy for their loss—a mute recognition of their useful service and a tribute to their character. To-day Erie will likely go up.

For some time past, it is well known, strong parties have been trying to rescue the Erie road from the Fisk-Gould management, and save at least its future from ruin. This murder will probably precipitate the movement in an unlooked-for manner. It is to the Erie ring what the Twelfth of July was to Tammany—the beginning to the end.—Phila Press 8th inst.

A CONTEMPORARY has some remarks on the custom of standing treat, so prevalent in this country, and advises its readers to make a resolution to discountenance the custom by every means in their power, without regard to the imputation of meanness with which they may be assailed. It says this is one of the most senseless humbugs of the age, and a man might as well feel obliged to ask a casual acquaintance when he meets him in a shoe shop, to select covering for his feet, as to feel bound to ask him to drink when he meets him in a barroom. Our own opinion is that the best way to settle the debate about treating is to stop drinking.

THE title of "doctor," it is now stated, was invented in the twelfth century. Irenius, a learned professor of law at the university of Bologna, induced the Emperor Lothaire II., whose chancellor he was, to create the title, and he himself was the first recipient of it. He was made doctor of laws by that university. Subsequently the title was borrowed by the faculty of theology, and first conferred by the university of Paris on Peter Lombard. William Gordenio was the first person upon whom the title of doctor of medicine was bestowed; he received it from the College of Asti, in 1329.

A MAN died the other day from habitual drunkenness. A post-mortem examination of his internal organs showed that his blood was largely mixed with alcohol. The coroner testified that the heart smelled as though it had been steeped in alcohol.

AN ASSOCIATED PRESS FALSEHOOD.

On Friday night the Philadelphia morning papers connected with the New York Associated Press received a despatch form New York, which was printed on Saturday by two of them, as follows:

"Alexander Delmar's paper, the City of Brooklyn, of to-day, brings to light an extraordinary financial transaction affecting the Liverpool, London and Globe Insurance Company. It charges that through financial manipulation the managers have pledged $5,000,000 of assets in trust to secure to themselves $300,000 per annum forever inviolated, and that the former immense sum is falsely advertised among the company's assets. The article creates a sensation in insurance circles."

There was not one word of truth in this allegation of Delmar's, as might be inferred by any man of common sense who read it. The paper that he has lately started has no standing, and he himself is known as a person whose word cannot be relied on. But he invents sensational stories in the interest of an association of six New York insurance companies, called 'The Underwriters' Association,' whose business has been seriously affected since the Chicago fire by the growing popularity of the Liverpool, London and Globe Company. This association makes use of the New York Associated Press to disseminate falsehoods concerning other companies, and that is the history of the despatch which appeared in the Inquirer and North American of Saturday, and in more distant papers that depend on the New York Associated Press for their news. There has been no such financial manipulation in the Liverpool, London, and Globe Companies, as that charged by Delmar; its affairs are, as they always have been, managed with perfect honesty, and its business has enormously increased since its prompt payment of its Chicago's losses, which, by the way, were most extravagantly overstated by the New York Associated Press immediately after the fire.—Phila Bulletin.

Messrs. Anderson & Hale are Agents for the company in Centre county. They are both men of character, and standing and neither of them would have anything to do with an Insurance Company that was not financially sound and honest in every particular. We have no hesitancy in recommending this company and their Agents.

Mrs. Stokes, wife of the murderer of Fisk, a good and beautiful lady, is on her way home from Europe, and has no inkling of the dreadful tidings which await her on arrival in New York. It is stated that Miss Mansfield some months ago endeavored to get Stokes to procure a divorce from this excellent woman; but in this she failed, as Stokes was not so lost to all fine feelings as to discard the wife of his bosom. The last letter written to Stokes by his wife was a model of forgiving conjugal affection.

BALLOU'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE FOR FEBRUARY.—About the neatest present a father can make to wife, daughter or son, or a mother to her husband and and children, is a year's subscription to that famous and popular magazine, Ballou's Monthly. It is only $1.50 per year and contains more of real interest to the general reader than any other magazine in this country. It is original, filled with pleasant stories, sharp adventures, sea yarns, nice poetry, and all that is calculated to claim the attention of the great reading public. Published by Thomes & Talbot, 63 Congress Street, Boston.

STRANGE as it may seem, a bill to license the social evil, now pending in the Legislature of the District of Columbia, has received the sanction of the Women's Club, and, it is said, will probably pass. Heretofore the members of the Club have steadily and severely opposed it, even in its mildest and best regulated form. For them now to give it countenance, in any way, is a tacit confession that it is an incurable evil, and that the best that can be done with it is to hedge its victims about with every possible safeguard.

THE latest story by Thurlow Weed describes how some New Yorkers raised a fund to defeat Fillmore in 1856, which was given to him for "judicious distribution." He placed ten thousand dollars in bank to the credit of his partner, to be drawn out as it was needed. A few days after, the latter dropped dead in the street. The bank paid over the money, in due process of law, to the widow. A year or two passed, and Mr. Fillmore met and married the widow—and the $10,000.

THE Superintendent of the census estimates the loss of population by the late rebellion as follows; Direct loss from wounds and disease, 500,000; additional Confederate loss, 350,000; indirect loss by the withdrawal of 1,500,000 men from domestic life, and the consequent diminution of births, 1,235,000; loss by the check given to immigration, 354,000; retardation of increase in the colored population, 562,000; total 3,000,000.

PRIEST AGAINST BISHOP!

A STRAIGHTFORWARD ACCOUNT OF THE TROUBLE AT WILLIAMSPORT!

The Williamsport Ecclesiastical Controversy and the Extent of its Import—Is the Catholic Church in the United States a Missionary or a Canonical Organization—Antecedants of the Young Priest who has Brought his Bishop to Terms.

(Correspondence of the New York Sun.

WILLIAMSPORT, PA., Dec. 30, 1871.—It is not given to every borough to enjoy the honor of numbering among its citizens a great reformer; but history has shown that the instruments of the greatest revolutions most frequently spring from the most obscure and insignificant places. The proud Jews of Jerusalem disdainfully claimed that no good could come out of Nazareth; yet that humble and derided hamlet gave to the world the great founder of the Christian religion. The city of Williamsport would doubtless be aggrieved at being compared with Nazareth of ancient Judea, yet there are multitudes throughout the land to-day who would scorn the idea that this little out of the way town could give birth to a reformation in the ancient and venerable church which claims Rome for its capital, second in importance only to that which under the initial promptings of Martin Luther, gave rise to the Protestantism of to-day. The position taken by the Rev, Michael P. Stack, the young and popular pastor of the Roman Catholic Church of the Anunciation, in his vigorous and effective protest against the arbitrary exercise of power by the Bishops of that Church in this country, is the entering wedge of a great movement, long demanded and imperatively required by the Catholic priesthood, destined to bring the Church, in its usages and discipline out from the tyranical cloud of the middle ages into the freer sunlight of modern civilization.

THE CONTROVERSY

between Father Stack and his Bishop has not attracted the attention it deserves, and which it will yet command, simply because its important character has not been understood. Those who read the brief telegraphic reports sent away from here announcing that the Bishop had been restrained by the civil courts from removing the priest from his pastorate, supposed that of course the priest was a troublesome customer defying alike the wishes of his flock and the Bishop, and by the technicalities of the civil law had come out ahead for the time being. But a more clear understanding of the case shows this to be an erroneous impression, and places Father Stack in the position of a faithful priest, ably contending for a just principle, and single-handedly fighting the battles of the great majority of the priests of the land against tyranny and oppression. A sufficient history of the case will show this clearly, and at the same time illustrate the principle involved and its great importance.

STACK SENT TO A HOPELESS FIELD.

Up to 1864 there was but one Roman Catholic church in this place, that composed of a congregation of Germans. The field was then within the diocese of Philadelphia, subject to the jurisdiction of Bishop Wood, the present incumbent of that See. In 1864 Bishop Wood sent a young priest here to organize a parish or congregation among the non-German Catholics. The young priest remained here about a year, during which time, by great effort, he succeeded in raising the funds to buy a lot and lay the foundation for a small chapel. But the effort required to accomplish this much, utterly discouraged him, and he went away, persuaded that the undertaking was a hopeless one. Bishop Wood then sent the Rev. Michael P. Stack here. Father Stack was a young man, full of energy and ambition, well educated, of pleasing address and popular manners, and in every way admirably adapted for the work assigned him. He was not a favorite with the Bishop, however, because of his

SIGNAL INDEPENDENCY AND BOLDNESS.

He was Educated at the Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, where, in the course of his studies, he betrayed to the Bishop these traits of character so conspicuously as to forbid the possibility of their not being observed. The students were required to assist at mass in the Cathedral in order to familiarize them with the ritual. On one occasion when the Bishop was officiating and the class to which young Stack belonged was assisting, the latter let loose his independent spirit in a manner that come near terminating his career in the church. The Bishop was seated on his throne and the students were investing him with the complicated paraphernalia of his office, each in turn advancing with a particular article of the vestment, kneeling at the foot of the throne and bowing reverently, and then, after disposing of his contribution to the episcopal attire, again kneeling and retiring backward from the august presence. It was nearly Stack's turn to advance when in observing the conduct of those who preceded him he was struck with the fact that the Bishop in no manner whatever recognized the reverence and respect paid him by the students. Not even a bow was returned for their humble kneeling and profound reverence. The proud spirit of the young man rebelled at this seeming indifference, and throwing aside the vestment he was to place upon the Bishop, he turned upon his heel and

Of course the incident could not be overlooked. The young man was called to account by the Rector and threatened with dismissal, but escaped with a severe reprimand. The circumstance, however, was not forgotten by the Bishop who reluctantly gave the young priest employment in an obscure part of the city when he was first admitted to orders, and then improved an early opportunity to sending him to the unpromising field in which another had failed.

The success of Father Stack in Williamsport bears ample testimony to his zeal and efficiency. The Church of the Annunciation which he has organized numbers from one thousand to twelve hundred members, mainly, however, poor laboring people of Irish or French Canadian antecedents. Such a congregation cannot be relied upon for very liberal offerings, and yet their pastor has succeeded, during his labors among them in purchasing a new lot as a site for a church, on which he has erected a pretty Gothic chapel of brick, with stained glass windows, furnished with an organ and all the necessary appendages. His people are, without exception, warmly devoted to him, and desirous that he shall remain to minister to them. With the Protestant community he is equally popular, even the clergymen of non Catholic Churches deeming it a pleasure to be admitted to his acquaintance and companionship.

FATHER STACK TAKES ISSUE WITH THE POPE.

A few years ago the disease of Philadelphia was divided, and the churches of Williamsport fell within the territorial limits of the new diocese of Scranton, of which the Right Rev. William O'Hara was made Bishop. The relations between the new Bishop and Father Stack seem to have been friendly and mutually satisfactory, until in 1870 the bold independence of the priest came to the official notice of the Bishop. The Bishop was absent in Rome in attendance upon the Œcumenical Council, when Father Stack wrote a communication to the public prints denouncing the action of the Pope in interfering with the Fenian movement in Ireland. The priest took the ground that this was a political matter over which the Church or the Pope had no control. He recognized the position of the Church that rebellion against lawful authority was sin, but contended that the British Government had no legal right to rule over Ireland, and that that Government, so far as Ireland was concerned, was a usurpation against which the Irish nation was at liberty to rebel. He also contended that the Pope could not of right determine what was the lawful Government in that island, and transcended his powers in giving recognition to the British Crown. On the publication of this communication Father Stack

WAS CALLED TO ACCOUNT

by the Vicar General of the diocese and severely censured, but as he declined to withdraw the obnoxious article, the matter was held open for the Bishop's action on his return home. When the Bishop returned he was waited upon by Father Stack, and the case was brought up. After a conversational review of it the Bishop admonished the priest that had he been at home when the communication was published, he should have treated it with severity; but inasmuch as it was a by-gone matter, he would let it go with the things of the past. Nevertheless the matter left an impression on the mind of the Bishop prejudicial to the priest, who never afterward regained the confidence of his superior. From that time forward the Bishop ignored Father Stack virtually, if not actually. In his visitations to this place he never consulted with the pastor of the Church of the Annunciation, and in his dealings with that congregation demeaned him-elf precisely as if there were no pastor.

THE BISHOP PUTS HIS FOOT IN IT.

In the erection of the church edifice Father Stack had created a debt of about $2,000 which remained as a lien upon the property. The fact was known to the Bishop, who charged himself with clearing it off. Father Stack's more intimate acquaintance with the circumstances of the parish, admonished him to let the debt lay for a while, as the people had been pressed to the extent of their ability. But the Bishop took the matter in his own hands, and without consulting with the pastor, undertook to pay off the obligation. In doing this,to use a vulgarism, he put his foot in it, and became personally responsible for the whole amount, which he was subsequently compelled to pay. This matter annoyed him excessively,and he hastened to Williamsport,without notifying Father Stack,and then without advising with or in any way consulting the pastor, called a meeting of the congregation and demanded that the money for which he was held should be raised at once. He made a powerful appeal to the congregation, and then took up a collection which yielded him $25. The pastor, mortified at not being consulted or advised with in a matter in which he was so much concerned, and feeling sensitively the slight put upon him, stood aloof, leaving the Bishop to pursue his own course. Doubtless he when the latter found but $25 to reimburse himself for the $2,000 he had been compelled to pay through his own interference. The Bishop left town without seeing the priest again. Soon afterward, however, Father Stack heard from his superior. It was by letter running as follows:

Rev. M. P. Stack:

REV. SIR: Your administration of the affairs connected with the Church of the Annunciation has been such that I feel myself compelled to remove you, and leave the church vacant. And I now forbid you to exercise any priestly functions in Williamsport, even to say mass. This prohibition binds sub gravi. You may call on me at Scranton,and I will inform you of my further intention in your regard.

W. O'HARA,
Nov. 3. Bishop of Scranton.

ARREST AND CONGREGATION PUNISHED.

Here was summary vengeance upon both priest and congregation The former was removed from his parish, which the canons of the church pronounces to be a punishment, and was put under bonds to refrain from exercising the offices of the ministry; which the congregation were sent out from the church they had builded, and denied the services and consolation of their religion, and all by the arbitrary act of the Bishop. No charges had been preferred either against priest or congregation; no investigation had been had; no court convened according to the canons for the trial of the case; no judgment had been rendered by any tribunal competent to pass upon an offence of the magnitude to call for such a measure of punishment. The Bishop was alone the accuser, prosecutor, judge,jury, and executioner, and right heartily did he proceed to the performence of the various duties implied.

THE BISHOP DEMANDS THE KEYS.

But this was not the end of the law against poor Stack and the congregation. To make sure that his terrible punishment should be enforced,the Bishop sent a communication at the same time to the Rev. Father Koeper, Pastor of the German Catholic Church here, directing him to call upon Father Stack and take possession of the keys of the church and hold them as custodian of the property on behalf of the Bishop. Father Stack received the Bishop's letter removing him on Tuesday, the 7th of November. On the evening of that day Father Koeper called upon him with the Bishop's order for the surrender of the keys. Here was a situation. If the Pastor should refuse to give up the keys on the Bishop's demand, he might lay himself liable to discipline for insubordination. On the contrary, if he gave up the keys it would amount to a waiver of any claim he might have to the pastorate, and a recognition of the Bishop's right to remove him in the manner attempted.

THE PRIEST FLANKS THE BISHOP.

The young priest had foreseen the dilemma. He had anticipated the issue with the Bishop and satisfied himself of his rights in the premises; but now the moment for action had arrived, the magnitude of the issue started him. Yet he hesitated only a moment, and then replied to Father Koeper, who was friendly to both parties, telling him that the sexton had a duplicate set of keys; he might go and get them, which he did, leaving Stack in possession of the set he had always held.

THE CONTESTANTS FACE TO FACE.

On the following day the deposed priest consulted with some of his friends confidentially, though avoiding giving publicity to his attempted removal. On Tuesday he visited Scranton to confer with the Bishop. The letter gave him no satisfactory reasons for his dismissal, but advised him to yield to it, promising him, in case he did so, to give him an appointment elsewhere. Father Stack demanded to know where that appointment would be; but the Bishop declined to tell him until after he had signified his willingness to submit to the removal, and thus the interview terminated without bringing about an understanding,though it was arranged that the two should meet again in Philadelphia on the Sunday following the next. From Scranton Father Stack went out into the northern part of the diocese to consult with priests stationed in that direction. On the succeeding Sunday he officiated in churches in Susquehanna county,leaving his own church closed, as he was not permitted to say mass there, and was not yet prepared to make an explanation in his congregation. From Susquehanna county he returned to Williamsport and on the following Sunday met the Bishop by appointment in Philadelphia.

THE SECOND INTERVIEW.

This interview was even more unpleasant and unsatisfactory than the first had been. The Bishop was imperious and Stack unyielding. This Bishop demanded submission; Stack stood for his rights. The Bishop promised an appointment after surrender; Stack demanded to know what disposition would be made of him if he surrendered. At last the Bishop gave way sufficiently to say that he intended sending him to Athens, in Bradford Co. As Athens is a mere hamlet, whose entire population of all creeds would scarcely make a decent congregation, while the importance of the place was so much below Williamsport as to make it a positive degradation to send a priest from here to that place, Stack refused to accept it. The Bishop said he must take it or take his own course. Stack concluded to take his own course, and

THE INTERVIEW TERMINATED ABRUPTLY.

The following week Father Stack remained in Philadelphia, taking counsel of his clerical and lay friends, consulting authorities and procuring legal advice. Among others he advised with the Hon. William L. Price, one of the most eminent lawyers in ecclesiastical jurisprudence at the Pennsylvania bar, who assured him that he could compel the Bishop to revoke his action. On Saturday he returned home and gave notice that the church would be open the following evening. At the appointed time he repaired to the church and found a full congregation waiting to receive him. As he was still under the ban of suspension he refrained from assuming any priestly garb, or presuming to exercise any priestly office. But he appeared at the alter rail and proceeded to address the people, relating to them the cause of the suspension of the services of the church. In this connection he read to them the Bishop's letter, and pointed out to them the effort it made to punish them as well as himself. The letter created a profound sensation, many of the congregation bursting into tears at the prospect of parting with their beloved pastor, and others manifesting their indignation at the course of the Bishop in terms that could not be mistaken. One person only ventured to suggest that possibly they had not fully comprehended the Bishop's letter, and demanded that it should be read again.

THE PRIEST SAVES THE LIFE OF THE QUESTIONER.

The insinuation against the priest implied in this remark was perceived instantly by the audience, and the cry, "Put him out," "Put him out," was raised on all sides, while a general rush was made for the presuming questioner. The priest saw the man's danger, and knew that he whould be torn to pieces if left to the mercy of that indignant and excited multitude. The congregation was in the wildest confusion. The aisles were filled with a pushing, rushing, angry throng, all seeking to reach the object of their wrath. Father Stack sprang from he alter rail, and jumping over the seat backs made his way with all haste to the offender's side, happily reaching him in time to shield him from the force of the storm he had raised, though not until he had received a pretty severe lesson. At this moment two policemen appeared at the door, and the man was taken out, the policemen, at the priest's request guarding the door to prevent a pursuit.

A SECOND VICTIM SOUGHT.

But scarcely had this one escaped when another was indicted as the one who had put the offender up to making the interruption, and a rush was made for him. The priest again ran a race with the multitude and rescued the threatened subject of wrath, who was safely led out and the doors locked to keep the congregation from following: Father Stack then returned to the chancel and resumed his remarks, recalling the attention of his people by a witticism at the expense of those who had disturbed the meeting. When he had again secured attention he notified the people that the action of the Bishop would not be final in the case; that he was determined to protect them in their rights; and should seek redress, if necessary, by an appeal to the Archbishop. This assurance satisfied them and the congregation dispersed with a conviction that the edict of a Bishop was not as inviolable as the laws of the Medes and Persians.

ADVOCATES OF A PASSIVE POLICY.

On the following week Father Stack visited Philadelphia, and spent several days in consultation with friends. He found numbers in the ministry who sympathized heartily with him, but were delicate about advising an open contest against a Bishop. Such a presumptive step was fraught with inconceivable danger. The Bishop was undoubtedly wrong, but whoever heard of a poor priest successfully resisting his Bishop. They all had the same cause of complaint as Stack. It was a common practice with Bishop's to bundle their clergymen about as if they had no rights; and there was no canon law but the Bishop's will; but why resist when nothing could be gained by it. Poor Stack got but little comfort from his friends, though he thought he saw a willingness on their part to allow him to pull their chestnuts out of the fire. But if they were afraid to venture,he was not, and finally leaving them he sought Mr. Price again, who reassured him of his rights in the premises, and then, by his direction, proceeded to draw up to restrain the Bishop. This original bill, as then drawn by Mr. Price, made certain members of the congregation parties plaintiff with the priest, the object of this being to test the Bishop's right to close the church; the argument being that, although the fee simple of all church property rests in the Bishop,he merely holds such fee as trustee for the congregations interested, and has no actual right of property as against the congregation. For reasons that will hereafter appear, this feature of the case was subsequently abandoned. Armed with this bill the priest returned to Williamsport, and retained Messrs. Armstrong, Linn & Parsons as solicitors to attend to the case, who at once filed the bill and obtained

A BILL IN EQUITY

Rev. Michael P. Stack et al. agt., Right Rev. Wm. O'Hara—In the Court of Common Please of the County of Lycoming, No. 1. January Term 1872—In equity.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to Right Rev. William O'Hara:

GREETING: Whereas, in a certain cause depending in our Court of Common Pleas of Lycoming county, wherein the Rev. Michael P. Stack et al. are plaintiff and Right Rev. William O'Hara is defendant, on the application of said plaintiffs the said court have made an order that a special or preliminary injunction do issue as prayed for in the bill of said plaintiffs. We, therefore,in consideration of the premises aforesaid, do strictly enjoin and command you, the Right Rev. William O'Hara, your agents and servants, and all and every of you,under penality of $5,000 to be levied of your lands, goods, and chattels for our use, that you and every one of you do desist and refrain from removing the Rev. M. P. Stack as pastor of the Church of the Annunciation at Williamsport, and that you be restrained as aforesaid against prohibiting the Rev. Michael P. Stack pastor of said church, from saying mass and exercising priestly functions in Williamsport, and that you be restrained as aforesaid from interfering in any way or manner with the exercise by the Rev. Michael P. Stack of his office as pastor of the said Church of the Annunciation at Williamsport until further order or decree shall be made in the premises by this Court.

A. H. MARTIN,
[Seal] Prothonotory.

This injunction, with the bill on which it was based and the order of the Court, was duly served on the Bishop at the Episcopal residence in Scranton on Saturday, the 2d of December. At the same time Stack gave notice through the daily papers that he would meet and address his congregation the next (Sunday) evening.

THE PRIEST AGAIN MEETS HIS CONGREGATION.

The next day he did meet his congregation. The church was crowded in every part, and the most profound interest was manifested in all that the pastor said. He told them that he had failed to obtain redress within the Church, and had therefore appealed to the civil courts. This announcement started the congregation, who were not yet prepared to look upon the interference of a civil court with purely ecclesiastical affairs as anything less than a heinous sin. But the priest, seeing their dilemma, assured them that he was not seeking to place civil law above the canon law of the Church, but was merely invoking the aid of the civil courts to secure respect for and obediences to the canons.

THE BISHOP DECLARES FATHER STACK EXCOMMUNICATED.

On the following Thursday the Bishop came to Williamsport accompanied by a young priest fresh from college, the Rev. Eugene A. Garvey, who he intimated was to be Father Stack's successor in the Church of the Annunciation. The Bishop and his priest stopped at a hotel, and neither notified Stack of his presence, or in any way communicated with him. On the following day he caused a notice to be circulated through the congregation that he would say mass and preach in the church on the coming Sunday, which he did, the congregation generally attending, Father Garvey assisting. The Bishop preached and gave his version of the troubles, defending the course he had pursued as right and proper. In referring to Father Stack he pronounced him outside the pale of the Church by virtue of his own act in resisting his bishop and appealing to the civil courts. The congregation were warned not to be led into error by their former pastor, who was no longer fitted to minister to them. When the Bishop pronounced their priest outside the pale of the Church the whole congregation was moved to tears; and when service was ended they repaired in parties af six, eight, ten, and a dozen each to their pastor's residence, crying like children, and proffering him their warm sympathies. It was a most affecting scene, testifying more strongly than could mere words to the affection of the people for their pastor.

A MOTION TO DISSOLVE THE INJUNCTION.

During the ensuing week the bishop, by his attorneys, Messrs. Maynard, Entermarks & Parker, made application to the Court to dissolve the injunction. The motion was based on affidavits of the bishop and others traversing the positions assumed in the bill, and claiming to show that the Roman Catholic Church in this country is purely a missionary establishment, and as such is not subject to the canon law of the Church as established in Catholic countries; but that the power of the Bishop over the priests is absolute and therefore he had the right to remove Father Stack without filing charges or giving him a hearing.

In the meantime the Bishop, by the exercise of personal influence and threats of excommunication, induced the laymen who had joined Father Stack in the bill in equity to withdraw from the suit. This step, however, was not resisted by Father Stack, as the mere property question was not immediately important. He was contending for a canonical administration and a proper limitation of the power of the bishops over the priests, and that issue would remain after the withdrawal of the lay plaintiffs.

THE BISHOP ADMITS THAT HE HAS NO CHARGE AGAINST STACK.

The case came on for argument on the motion to dissolve on Saturday, the 16th of December, Judge Maynard opening the case for the motion. He made an able argument in advocacy of the position taken by the Bishop, citing the proceedings of the second Plenary Council of Baltimore in support of the assertion that the Church in the United States is not a canonical but a missionary establishment. It was admitted in the fullest sense that Father Stack was a faithful priest, and in his private life was beyond reproach. But it was contended that the absolute right of removal was vested in the Bishop, and he could not be required to show a cause. Mr. Price of Philadelphia replied on the part of the priest, consuming the rest of the day in a forcible argument on the legal bearings of the case and the civil rights of the priest.

THE BISHOP ASKS PERMISSION TO OFFICIATE.

Before the adjournment of the Court the Bishop, by his counsel, made formal application for the use of the church on the following day. The Court referred the application to Father Stack's counsel, who replied that they did not question the Bishop's right to enter and use the church whenever he pleased; and so far from having any objection to his officiating there the next day, they would be most happy if he would do so, and as often as convenient in the future. In compliance with this consent the Bishop did officiate the next day, assisted by Father Garvey. But he carefully refrained from all personalities, and made no allusion to the pending case. At a later service, however, Father Garvey officiated, and assuming to be the pastor of the parish, made sundry announcements of pastoral work, including his arguments for the approaching Christmas.

THE ARGUMENT CONTINUED.

On Monday the argument of the case was continued, the Bishop's counsel contending that Father Stack had already acquiesced in the order of the Bishop by surrendering the church property. This position was sought to be maintained by an affidavit of Father Koeper, the German priest, setting forth that he had applied for and received the keys of the church on the Bishop's order. But this point was controverted by an affidavit made by Father Stack, showing that while he had permitted Father Koeper to take a duplicate set of keys from the sexton, he had never surrendered those he had always held, and which he still retained. This disposed of that pretence, and the case was closed by an elaborate and very learned argument against the motion to dissolve by the Hon. William H. Armstrong, ex-member of Congress from this district. Mr. Armstrong, in the course of an argument occupying two hours and a half in its delivery, made the followiug very

CLEAR AND FORCIBLE POINTS:

1. The Bishop having proceeded without accusation, citaton, or trial, his action was an invasion of the civil rights of the priest.

2. The profession of a priest and his right to exercise his priestly functions, is a vested right of property, in his office, within the meaning and protection of the constitution, and the question of unlawful interference with its exercise is within the jurisdiction of the civil courts.

3. The common law of the Roman Catholic Church is the law of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States.

4. Roman Catholic Churches in the United States within fixed dioceses, and under the jurisdiction of Bishops having fixed sees, are "canonical churches," not "missionary churches," and are to be governed by the universal law of the Roman Catholic Church.

5. The priests within such fixed bishoprics are "parish priests" whithin the meaning of the canon law, and cannot be removed by the Bishop except in the mode established by said law.

6. The canon law has established a uniform course of procedure for the removal of a priest from his parish, from which the Bishop is not at liberty to depart, and any arbitrary removal of a priest by his Bishop, not in conformity with the established and lawful mode, is void.

7. That removal is "punishment," and cannot be arbitrarily inflicted by the Bishop, but only after trial and condemnation according to the established law of the Church.

8. That the Roman Catholic Church stands upon the same level with all other churches of the United States, and is, in the sense of the law, a "a voluntary association."

9. A priest loses no right of citizenship by his reception of holy orders in the church, and as an officer of a voluntary association, his removal without accusation or trial is an invasion of his civil rights as a citizen.

THE AUTHORITIES CITED

On all these points Mr. Armstrong was fortified by citations from standard Catholic authorities, his main reliance being the acts and decrees of the second Plenary Council of Baltimore. It is impossible, of course, to follow the train of the argument or the authorties cited in the limits at my disposal; but, as possessing great interest to the general public, and especially to Catholic readers, I reproduce a few of the prominent citations.

As a general principle governing this case, as well as others, the following rule is referred to; "Bishops cannot enact anything contrary to the common (canon) law."—(Pope Benedict XIV., in Treatise on Provincial Counsels, page 93, book 12) The common law of the Church, like the common law of the land, presumes every man innocent, and that its officers are all qualified for their respective, positions.

"The discipline of the American Church ought to be made to correspond with that of the Universal church, even in things, formerly relaxed by indulgence (such as the number of festival days and days of fasting.)" (Instructions of Soc. prop Fide to Archbishop Spaulding for the Government of the Second Plenary Council of Baltimore, page xxvii, Acts and Decrees.) This instruction of the Roman Court was intended to prevent the appearance of a National Church, and was accepted as the standard of proceedings by Archbishop Spaulding.

The Preliminary Decrees of the Baltimore Council affirm the duty of obedience and reverence to the decrees of the Council of Trent and the Pontifical Constitutions,—(Preliminary Dec., page xxxviii., Dec. II.)

The Decrees of the Roman Court recognize as usage in that court as correlative terms the titles and designations, Vicars Apostolic and Missionaries; Episcopal sees and parishes; Dioceses and Bishops and parish priests.—(Page cxlix.)

The Baltimore Council recognized the same usage, as in its list of those present and participating in the Council appear two who are designated as Vicars Apostolic. These are Missionary Bishops in contradistinction to Canonical Bishops who occupy fixed dioceses.

"Let a Bishop govern (administer) all things by the sacred canons and the (common) law, not arbitrarily." (Balt. Council, Title iii., De Personis Ecclesiasticus, page 64, No. 85)

"It is altogether desirable that Parish priests be established (fixed) in the churches of our provinces, according to the custom of our Universal Church, and as they (Parish priests) exist in Catholic countries." (Ibid, page 79, No. 123.)

The substance of Title X, De Ordine, of the Baltimore Council, affirms that priests cannot be ordained without a title to life support. The title is three-fold, viz.: Patrimony, benefice, and religious property. In the United States, in the absence of religious benefices, the priests are ordained with the title of the ministry. This is deemed equivalent to benefit or patrimony—therefore, an estate or property.

"A canonicle cause of removal is any grave crime, that is, the commission of any fault, or the omission of any duty, sufficient, per se, to scandalize the faithful or Christian people." (Corpus Juris Canonicl, page 697, decretals of Gregory IX., book 10, title 1.)

The Council of Trent declares the titles Parish Priest and Pastor to be equivalent or synonymous.

Father Stack is styled "Pastor" in the official publications of the church.

"A canonical cause and canonical method of procedure are necessary in order to deprive a parish priest regularly appointed (institutum) of his parish." (Rulings of the Roman Court, September 4, 1869.)

"Deprivation [of a parish] has the nature of a grave [severe] punishment," [forbid.]

THE CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES IS CANONICAL.

These citations might be greatly extended, but sufficient is given to show with what emphasis Mr. Armstrong maintained his position and established the fact that the Catholic Church within fixed dioceses in this country is not a missionary, but a canonical establishment and that under such an establishment a Bishop has no authority to remove a priest from a parish except upon charges preferred and proven before a duly constituted tribunal. The Court here took this view of the matter and refused to dissolve the injunction, as has been seen.

FATHER STACK CAUTIONS HIS SUCCESSOR.

While waiting for the verdict or the opinion of the Court on this motion, Father Stack sought an interview with Father Garvey, the Bishop having returned to Scranton, leaving the latter here to officiate in the Church of the Annunciation. Father Garvey, at this interview, claimed to be here by command of the Bishop, and did not seem to realize the danger to which he exposed himself in persisting in occupying the church in defiance of the injunction. Father Stack admonished him in friendly spirit of his liability to attachment for contempt of court if he should attempt to officiate in the church, as on the following day the Court announced its opinion. Father Garvey backed down and abandoned his pretensions. But, as if to annoy Father Stack, he published a notice in the local papers calling upon the congregation to assemble in the German church at the farther end of the town for Sunday and Christmas services. Father Stack construed this to be a trick to force him to say mass in the Church of the Annunciation so as to retain his congregation, and thus lay himself liable to a charge of schism. But like he refrained from doing what his enemies wanted him to do, and so triumphed. Not only did he not attempt to keep his congregation from the German Church, but he attended mass there himself with the congregation both on Sunday and Christmas, thus setting an example of Submission to lawful authority until it is shown to be unlawful. On Sunday after mass the male members of the congregation appealed to Father Stack to go ahead and say mass independently of the Bishop, pledging him their support. But the wary young priest refused to become schismatic. On Christmas day Father Garvey, in the course of his sermon, expressed the hope that another Christmas would find them without recollectionof this trouble,and intimated that the court and Father Stack were but there enemies and should be avoided.

THE BISHOP AGAIN SUMMONED TO COURT.

Thus matters drifted along quitly, the Church of the Annunciation remaining closed, and Father Stack accompanying his flock to the other church until yesterday, when the Court granted the order I have already communicated to you, requiring the Bishop to appear and show cause why he should not revoke his letter of Nov. 5. and reinstafe the suspended priest, the object being, as I indicated in my last communication, to compel the Bishop to place Father Stack where he was before, and where, by Judge Gamble's decision, he is now entitled to go of his own volition, though at the risk of being accused of schism in disobeying his Bishop. And here the matter rests until next Wednesday the return day of the new order, when it will be seen whether a civil court will, by mandatory process, compel a Bishop to respect and obey the canons of his church.

BACKING UP THE PRIEST.

The general interest taken in this matter especially by Catholics, will be seen by a few extracts from the avalanche of letters that are pouring in upon Father Stack from all parts of the country, bracing him up to firmness in the stand he has taken against this common evil and abuse. One priest of this diocese writes:

Bravo, Stack! Trusting you will be able to put one good, rough nail in the coffin of arbetrarines of the Bishops,I am truly yours, as ever, ———

Another priest fully approves the course taken, but adds a word of caution as follows:

It is as unbecoming perhaps as it is unnecessary for me to say that you should be scrupuously careful not to do or say anything that would injure yourself personally or the faith of those committed to your charge.

Yours, ———

WHAT A DISTINGUISHED LAYMAN SAYS.

Judge F. A. Shoemaker of Ebensburg, Pa,, an influential member of the Catholic Church, writes:

Allow me to offer you my congratulations on the injunction granted against the centralization of power. Indeed you deserve the thanks of all free-thinking free-acting Catholics, in being the prime mover to obtain an administration of common (canon) law in this country. While we have many narrow-minded, superstitious persons in the Church who would abher an interference with the Bishops, yet those who know what is right, and who with the pries's are affected alike by the will (good or bad) of a Bishop, readily acqeuiece in the present disposition made of the power sought to be used against you. Very truly yours, F. A. Shoemaker.

Another distinguished layman writes from Philadelphia:

My admiration and warm friendship for you have increased tenfold. Continued to be the man that you are and fight it out. Don't give up the ship or I will never look at you again.

Yours, ———

THE SINEWS OF WAR.

These are fair samples of the great bulk of letters Father Stack receives daily, though occasionally they contain remittances, the writers appreciating the fact that such a battle cannot be manitained with an empty treasury.

THE SENATE AND THE ADMINISTRATION.

We wonder, sometimes, at political events. We are dazed at the audacity of some men, and surprised at the mendacity of others, and like the old Roman Senator, Appius Claudius, might regret that we were not deaf as well as blind. "For then," said he, "I should not have heard of your shameful counsels so serious to the glory of Rome." It is true we should be surprised at nothing in these days of abject recklessness, when a handful of men arrogate to themselves the high functions of censors and take upon themselves the responsibility of making and unmaking Presidents, regardless of the expressed wishes of the people. It is, however, but a verification of the fact—

"That fools rush in where Angels fear to tread,' and it sometimes happens that in their ardor to stab a Cæsar they unwittingly "catch a Tartar."

The most of the time of Congress, thus far, has been occupied in appointing investigating committees and discussing measures of reform. And what seems strange, all parties are in favor of reform and of a searching investigation into the affairs of the Government. The sore-headed Republicans, led on by Schurz and Trumbull, thinking to make capital for the Democracy, and to create a feeling of suspicion against the Administration, with a virtuous flourish of trumpets demand that committees should be created and investigations made, and even the private affairs of the President be laid open to the public. Much to the disappointment of these virtuous reformers, the friends of the administration not only voted for the measure, but strongly urged that these committees should be raised, and that a most thorough and critical examination should be had into all the different departments of the Government, thus placing President Grant's Administration strictly upon its merits, and on them let it stand or fall. The position assumed by the friends of the administration in this matter was entirely unexpected by the enemies of the President, and falls like a wet blanket upon their pet scheme.

During the debate in the Senate upon this subject, the statement was made by Mr. Schurz, and reiterated by Messrs. Trumbull, Casserly and other, that "the Government was reeking with corruption." Now these gentlemen are all members of that honorable and responsible body, and it is fair to suppose they know whereof they affirm, and as the investigating committee has been appointed, we suggest that it summon these honorable Senators as witnesses—let them be put upon the stand and under solemn oath let them make such disclosures of corruption as have come under their personal observation. Let them tell all they know of "jobs and plundering schemes" of which they have publicly charged and incessantly talked. Let them enumerate the nature and value of the numerous gifts illegally received by the President of which they are personally cognizant. Give them a chance to make good the charges they have so boldly made against the President, and if they fail to do so, let them be censured by the body of which they are members as common slanderers and defamers. By all means give these gentlemen a chance to "testify."

The seeming opposition to Mr. Trumbull's resolution to "investigate" by certain Senators—friends to President Grant—has been heralded by the Democratic press as an attempt to shield the administration and defeat the investigation. This is an error. The friends of the President have only attempted to confine the investigation to its legitimate work. Have demanded that in the investigation of the co-ordinate branches of the Government outside of Washington, that the President should not be mixed in as party to frauds which he, himself, has endeavered to prevent. While Senators Schurz and Trumbull do not expect to be able to identify the administration with even questionable complicity with these operations, they had hoped to manipulate a report that would be damaging to the prospects of President Grant's renomination. The ferocity with which these men have pursued the President, is only equalled by the futility and utter failure of their purpose. Opposed, as they are to his renomination, every effort, regardless of propriety and decency, have been made to bring reproach upon his administration and obloquy upon his personal reputation. The friends of President Grant, both in and out of the Senate do not shrink from a thorough and searching investigation of all the official acts of the President, but they are not willing that his political enemies—even though they profess to be Republicans—shall drag him before the country in a false light. They are determined that his administration shall stand upon its merits, and on its merits alone be judged by the people. If by a fair showing, the President is found to be implicated in peculations and schemes derogatory to the dignity of his position and interests of the Government, the Republican masses throughout the country, who are now looking to his renomination, would bend their whole efforts to effect his defeat and displacement. But this attempt to implicate him will fail as all others have, and while the opportunity presents itself we trust the friends of the President in the Senate will place these men upon the witness stand and give them a chance to verify their charges, or convict them "out of their own mouths" of vile calumniations.

That these men who were sent to the United States Senate as Republicans have a right to oppose the re-nomination of President Grant, we do not feel disposed to question, but we do question the propriety of, and their right to, attempt to bring odium and reproach upon a faithful public servant to gratify their personal animosity. It is well known that President Grant, for the past two years, has devoted his energies to bringing about reforms in the Civil Service. That he is the author of the proposition to reform the Civil Service system. That he has watched with zealous care the administration of the various departments of the Government, and that he has not hesitated to remove from office his warmest personal friends when he thought the public interest demanded it. Notwithstanding his vigilance many frauds have been perpetrated, and with earnestness he has appealed to Congress to assist him in inaugurating a system that will prevent a further recurrence of these irregularities, and the charge by the anti-Grant Republicans in the Senate that he or his friends are attempting to avoid an investigation, is a weak effort on the part of these men to make capital for the Democratic party.

It is to be regretted that this question has assumed so formidable an aspect this early in the session. That these feelings of animosity, embittered by disappointment, should be permitted to over-step the bounds of reason and propriety and engender discord and dissensions in the party at the very time the utmost harmony and good-feeling should prevail. Their opposition to President Grant may result in the defeat of the Republican party and the election of a democrat to the Presidency in 1872, but will that bring about the much-needed reform they so zealously profess to covet? Will the surrender of the Government into the hands of the party whose corruption is unparalleled in the political history of nations, restore the confidence of these Solons of the Senate? Let Senator Trumbull answer. We quote from his September speech to the Republicans of Illinois. He said:

"There are also other reforms in the Government that are to be brought about. How is all this to be accomplished? That is the great question to be submitted to the American people in the next election. The war is over—that contest is done. Now what political organization will be safest for the American people? Hereafter where shall we look? Shall we look to that party which brought the Government to civil war to preserve the Union? Will we look to that party which ruined the credit of the nation so that it could not borrow at less than twelve to thirty per cent. per annum—to that party which inaugurated the doctrine that to the victors belong the spoils—to that party which now desires further to depreciate the currency of the country by issuing millions and millions more of it? If it is believed by the American people, no matter to what party they belong, Republican or Democrat, that the Government of the country will be safest in the hands of these men, if you believe that the men, many of whom sought to destroy the Government, will be more likely to preserve it than those who fought for its existence; if you believe that the men who ruined its trade will be more likely to improve it than they who, when it was ruined, have already re-established it to a great extent; if you look for reform to them, then it is the duty of the voter to go to the polls and vote with the Democratic party."

It is evident that the honorable Senator, at that time, had no idea of going to the Democratic party to look for reforms, and we trust his views, in that direction, have undergone no material change since September—there certainly has been nothing in the action of the Democracy since that time to warrant him in his quasi indorsement of their schemes to bring reproach upon the administration and defeat to the party.—Public opinion will not sustain these destroyers of the peace in the Senate. They may light their lamp and send out their Dioganese to look up their man, but they will find that the voice of the people is all-potent. The administration of President Grant receives a hearty indorsement by the Republican masses throughout the country, and any attempt to disregard or set aside the expressed wish of the people will prove disastrous to its authors. President Grant is firmly established in the affections of the people, and it will require more than the rantings of disaffected politicians to shake their confidence in him. They love and venerate the man who has done the country such incalculable service, but if they find he has been recreant to the trusts imposed in him, or has, as alleged, by these immaculate reformers, been engaged in peculations, they will not be slow to cast him aside as an unfit representative of the great Republican party of the country. It will require more than the simple assertion of the disorganizers, both in and out of Congress, to convince them of this fact and this effort to divide and distract the party upon questions of such vital importance, will recoil with deserved fatality upon the heads of its authors.

Let the Watchman continue its false charges, if it desires to do so; but the people know Gen. Grant, they know what he has done, and they have entire confidence in his honesty, and his ability to accomplish more—the harmonious unity of the States, and the largest liberty to every American citizen.

THE PITTSBURG DISPATCH.

Parties wishing a first-class daily paper should by all means subscribe for the Pittsburg DAILY DISPATCH one of the largest, liveliest and cheapest papers in the United States. The DISPATCH has been established over a quarter of a century; is independent in politics, advocating always those measures which promise the greatest possible good to the largest possible number; gives daily thirty-six columns of matter, embracing the latest news by telegraph, the most reliable market reports the latest cable telegrams, the freshest Legislative news, the latest Congressional reports, the fullest local reports, with all the news by mail, including the most interesting personal and political items, full telegraphic market reports from all points of importance, East and West, and much other matter of an entertaining and instructive character. The DISPATCH is furnished by mail at $8,00 a year, or may be had from our agents in any town or village within one hundred and fifty miles of Pittsburg at fifteen cents a week.

To those wishing a good and reliable city weekly we would recommend the WEEKLY DISPATCH, one of the handsomest, cheapest and most reliable weeklies published. The WEEKLY DISPATCH gives thirty-six columns of matter, printed in clear large type, and is one of the handsomest, as it has long been one of the cheapest, if not the cheapest weeklies in the country. It contains all the latest news of the day—political, commercial and general—and as an entertaining and acceptable family newspaper is not excelled by any journal in the State. The WEEKLY DISPATCH is furnished to single subscribers at $1 50 a year, or in clubs of ten to one address at $1 00 each, with a free paper to the party getting up the club. Subscribers may remit by mail either in money or by postoffice order, which is the safer mode. Postmasters receiving subscriptions for the DISPATCH, either Daily or Weekly, are authorized to retain twenty per cent, on published rates for single subscribers, or ten per cent, on our club rates. Address,

O'NEILL & ROOK,
Publishers of DAILY and WEEKLY DISPATCH
(DISPATCH Iron Building)

We were pleased to see, not long since in one of our exchanges, some pretty severe remarks addressed to several persons who, during an interesting lecture by Rev. Jno. S. C. Abbott, kept a continuous coughing, which prevented many from hearing. People who cannot refrain from coughing, had better stay away from such places, or else take a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment with them.

The importance of giving Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders to horses that have been out in the cold rain, stood in cold wind, or drank too much cold water, cannot be over estimated; no man should be without them who owns a good horse.

WE here give notice to all shoemakers and dealers in Leather that we are now prepared to furnish you with the best brands of Sole Leather, French and German calf skin in town. Call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhare. Next door to Loeb, May & Loeb's store. Sole leather the very best 33 cts by the side and in quantities at 32 cts.

THE AMERICAN WASHER?

PRICE $5.50

THE AMERICAN WASHER SAVES MONEY, TIME, AND DRUDGERY.

The Fatigue of Washing Day no Longer Dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing, Sure.

In calling public attention to this little machine, a few of the invaluable qualities, (not possessed by any other washing machine yet invented,) are here enumerated.

It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most easily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours' practice, can thoroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no screws to annoy, no delay in adapting! It is always ready for use! It is a perfect little wonder! It is a miniature giant, doing more work and of a better quality, than the most elaborate and costly. One half of the labor is fully saved by its use, and the clothes will last one-half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. Three shirts at a time, washing thoroughly! In a word, the ablution of any fabric, from a Quilt to a Lace Curtain or Cambric Handkerchief, are equally within the capacity of the LITTLE GEM! It can be fastened to any tub and taken of at will.

No matter how deep rooted a prejudice may exist against Washing Machines, the moment this little machine is seen to perform its wonders, all doubts of its cleansing efficacy and utility are banished, and the doubter and detractor at once becomes the fast friends of the machine.

We have testimonials without end, setting forth its numerous advantages over all others, and from hundreds who have thrown aside the unwieldy, useless machines, which have signally failed to accomplish the object promised in prominent and loud sounding advertisements.

It is as perfect for washing as a wringer is for wringing. The price another paramount inducement to purchasers, has been placed so low that it is within the reach of every housekeeper and there is no article of domestic economy that will repay the small investment so soon.

All that is asked for this GREAT LABOR SAVER, is a fair trial. We guarantee each machine to do its work perfectly.

The Influence of Women.

Life becomes more harmonious, it beats with a keener pulse of enjoyment, in the presence of pretty women. After all a charming little figure, apiquant little face is the best remedy for half the ills of existence, its worries, vexations, its dullness, its disappointments. And even in the larger and placid types of beauty, in the beauty of a Lady Dumbelle, if there is a tinge of stupidity, there is, at any rate, an atmosphere of repose, a genial influence moulding our social converse and habits into gentler shapes.

It is amusing to see how the prettiness of women on her dress, how the order and propriety of the dress, tells on home. The pursuit of beauty, the habit of prettiness gives an ideal dignity to the very arrangement of her bonnet strings. In every movement, in the very sweep of her ample folds, in the pose of her languor, in the gay start of her excitement, one feels the softening, harmonizing influence of her last look in the glass. She may be gay or sorrowful, quiet or energetic, but she must be pretty. Beauty exercises an imperceptible compulsion over her, which moulds her whole life into graceful and harmonious forms.—Her dress rises out of the mere clothing of man into the regions of science, of poetry, of art. A thousand considerations of taste, of harmonies of color, contrasts, correspondencies, delicate adjustments of ligh and shade, dictate the choice of a shawl or the tint of a glove.

And as prettiness tells on dress, it tells on the home. Flowers, pictures, the gay notes of a sonata, the cosiest of couches, gorgeous hues of Indian tapestry, glass-work of Murano, and a hundred exquisite somethings and nothings, are the natural setting of pretty women. The art of the boudoir tells on all but the chaos of the husband's study. Around that last refuge of barbarianism floats an atmosphere of taste and refinement, in which the pretty wife moves and lives and has her being. And from this tone of the home grows the tone of society, the social laws of good humor, of propriety, of self-restraint, of consideration for others, of gentleness, of vivacity. The very hush of the rough tones that thundered over Peloponesus, as Pericles bends over Aspasia, the little turns and delicacies of phrase, the joyous serfdoms and idleness of the manliest and most energetic of men, tells of the triumph of pretty women.

Owing to the desire of the coal operators in the Wyoming region of this State for a reduction of wages a temporary suspension of work has taken place, the miners refusing to accede to such action. The stoppage is represented to be purely local, not extending beyond the locality above mentioned

Serious trouble is apprehended on what is known as the Osage Indian Lands in the western part of Kansas, the settlers, who have recently been ordered to leave by the Goverament being disposed to remain unless driven away by force of arms.

A letter from Ottawa, Kansas states that corn is a drug in that market at 55 cents, and potatoes are dull at 40 cents per bushel. The cause is the difficulty to transport the spare produce on account of the exorbitant rates of freight charged on railroads.

Virgina through her Legislature has stopped the funding of her debt, notwithstanding the veto of the Governor. A special joint committee has also been appointed to consider and report on the question of payment.

Boiler Explosions.

It is estimated that there are 69,000 boilers in use in the United States, representing a power of over 3,000,000 or of 17,000,000 men. These 69.500 boilers are distributed as follows; Locomotive, 9,000; steamboat, 10, 200; stationary, 50,000. At a recent meeting of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a lecturer asserted that according to experiments made by himself, all boiler explosions, except in the few cases which burst in the weakest place, are caused by unequal expansion of the metal. It was stated that the greatest number of boiler explosions, especially on loccmotives, occurs in this country between the 1st of September and the 1st of January, in the interval betwee summer and the time when the engineer supplies feed water heated by his waste steam, the cold feed water at the above season causing unequal expansion of the metal. In order to prevent this, a device has been invented by which water is taken from the bottom of the boiler, and, by means of an automatic apparatus, furnished to the top. In this way feed water of the temperature of the steam is constantly supplied to the boiler, and unequal expansion is prevented.

As Artemus Ward was once traveling in the cars, dreading to be bored, and feeling miserable, a man approaced him, sat down and said:

"Did you hear the last thing on Horace Greeley?"

"Greeley? Greeley?" said Artemus, "Horace Greeley? Who is he?"

The man was quiet about five minutes. Pretty soon he said:

"George Francis Train is kicking up a good deal of a row over in England; do you think they will put him in a bastile?"

"Train, Train, George Francis Train," said Artemus, solemnly, "I never heard of him."

This ignorance kept the man quiet for fifteen minutes then he said:

"What do you think about Gen. Grant's chances for the presidency?"

"Grant! Grant! hang it man!" said Artemus, "you appear to know more strangers than any man I ever saw."

The man was furious; he walked up the car, but at last come back and said:

"You confounded ignoramus, did you ever hear of Adam?"

Artemus looked up and said:

"What was his other name?"

DOCTOR M. meets Deacon R, for whose wife he prescribed a shower-bath; the following conversation ensues:

"Well, how did your wife manage the shower-bath, Deacon?

"She had real good luck. Madam Moody told her how she managed. She said she had a large, oiled silk cap, with a cape to it, like a fireman's, that came all over her shoulders, and—"

"She's a fool for her pains—that's not the way."

"So my wife thought."

"Your wife did nothing of the sort, I hope."

"Oh, no doctor, she used an umbrilly!"

"What! used an umbrella? What the mischief good did the shower-bath do her?"

"She said she felt better. Her clothes weren't wet a mite. She sot under the umbrilly for half an hour, till all the water trickled off, and said 'twas cool and delightful, and just like a leetle shower in summer. Then she took off her things, and rubbed herself for half an hour after."

BACHELORS.—The Roman Censors frequently imposed taxes on unmarried men, and men of full age were obliged by law to marry, unless mentally or physically disqualified. The Spartan women, at certain games, laid hold of all the old bachelors they could get their hands on, and inflicted on them every mark of infamy and disgrace, dragging them around their alters and handling them very roughly. In 1695 the English Parliament laid a tax on bachelors over twenty-five years of age of twelve pounds and ten shillings for a duke, which was graduated down to one shilling for a common man. Uncle Sam has been very lenient to his unmarried nephews at all times, but he might do a good thing for the heavy war debt by laying revenue ad capitum tax on them just now.

Governor Washburn, of Massachusetts, in his inaugural message refers to all important questions concerning the commonwealth, particularly on the subject of prohibiting the sale of liquors.

This is the significant commentary on M. Thiers by one of his old newspaper compatriots: "He wants the purple, but he can't reach it by the blood that flows over his flannel waistcoat."

To any with debilitated digesti'e Organs

Or suffering with any of the following Symptoms, which indicate Disordered Stomach or Liver.

such as Constipation, Inward Piles, Fullness or Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Fructations, Sinking or Fluttering at Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and difficult breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

Hoofland's German Bitters.

A Bitters without Alcohol or Spirits of any kind.

Is different from all others. It is composed of the pure Juices, or VITAL PRINCIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS, and BARKS, (or, as medicinally termed, Extracts,) the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several gallons or ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, when they compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others: no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use, they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circumstances, have any but a beneficial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic,

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each bottle of the tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the bitters is overcome forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1,50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article! A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients; and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefitted by it, will most certainly be cheated.

SPEAR FOR THESE REMEDIES.
Who would ask for more Dignified or Stronger Testimony?

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, formerly Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania at present Member of Congress from Pennsylvania, writes:
PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1871.
I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in case of debility and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

HON. JAS. THOMPSON, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania,
PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867.
I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my own experience of it.
Yours, with respect, JAS. THOMPSON.

Hon. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1868.
I have found by experience that "Heofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly.
GEORGE SHARSWOOD

HON. JAS. M. WOOD, Ex-Mayor of Williamsport, Pa.
I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so week, as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure. JAMES M. WOOD.

REMEMBER
THAT HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Will Cure every Case of MARASMUS,
Or Wasting away of the Body.
REMEMBER
THAT HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES
Are the medicines you require to purify the Blood, excite the torpid Liver to healthy action, and to enable you to pass safely through any hardships or exposure.

DR. HOOFLAND'S
PODOPHYLLIN,
Or Substitue for Mercury Pills.
TWO PILLS A DOSE.
The Most Powerful, Yet Innocent Vegetable Cathartic Known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it specially from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver, and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain its hold, or ever assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by Express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 Arch St., Philadelphia.

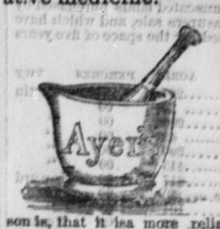
Medical.

Aver's Cathartic Pills.
For all the the Purpose of a Laxative medicine.



Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use in every county and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill.—The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, knows that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterous drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal vicera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions from the stomach' bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or GREEN SICKNESS, BILLIOUS COLIC and BILLIOUS FEVERS, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back or Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a DINNER PILL, take one or two PILLS to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN

BELLEFONTE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, January 17, 1872.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

We would call the special attention of postmasters and our subscribers to the followinw synopsis of the newspaper laws:

1. A postmaster is required to give notice by letter, (eeturning a paper does not answer the aw,) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reasons for its no tbeing taken; and a neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publishers for epayment.

2. Any person who takes a paper faom the post-office, whether directed to his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, reponsible for the payment.

3. If a person orders his paper to be discontinued, he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until paymen is made, and collect the whole amount, whether it be taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until the payment is made.

4. If the subscriber orders the paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it, if he takes it out of the post-office. The law proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima-facie evidence of intentional fraud.

The original "Barber's Horse Powder" at Green's.

SNOW.—As yet we have had no snow sufficient to make sleighing. The weather has been remarkably mild for the last three weeks.

FINISHED.—The Undine Fire Company, No. 2, have at last succeeded in putting the final finishing stroke upon their new hose house. It is a good building. The front we think is a model of artistic skill.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. Jonn Hite, clerk at Mann's Axe Factory in Mifflin county, Pa., met with an accident on Tuesday evening the 9th, inst., that caused instant death. In attempting to jump from one car to another, he fell and was caught by the wheels and instantly killed. He never spoke. He was litterally torn to pieces. He leaves a wife and family to mourn their loss. He was a sober industrious man—a favorite with all who knew him.

DELAYED.—We delayed the publication of the REPUBLICAN this week until Friday, for the purpose of making some necessary improvements. We made up our minds that it was better that our readers should have no paper, than one which they could not read. Hereafter, we will endeavor to mail our paper regularly to subscribers every Wednesday. The Presidential Campaign is about opening, every Republican in the county, should, therefore, subscribe for our paper.

NEW TREASURER.—Col. Jas. F. Weaver, the new County Treasury fills the office with a great deal of dignity. We did not vote for him of course and would prefer to-day to have Col. Geo. A. Bayard, in that office; but we must submit to the will of the majority. Make good use of it Col. for you are about the last Democrat that will ever fill that office in this county. Do not loan your money to every Tom Dick or Harry—every scalawag that may come after it. They will make good promises, but never pay until compelled.

NICE.—Our young friend Mark McKean, who took a trip across the continent for his health, sent us from the Plains a nice, large piece of Buffalo meat. It came all right and was indeed highly appreciated by us. We learn that Mr. McKean has since arrived at his home, near Zion, much improved in health and benefited in every way by his trip. He is delighted with the western country. It is the place for men who can raise from $500 to $2,000. Every person desirous of owning their own homes should go west.

GOOD PRICE.—Last week the farm of Jacob Hosterman, deceased, in Haines township was sold to Adam Weaver, at the rate of $140 per acre. A tract of good timber land, says the Reporter, lying South of the above was knocked off at $185 per acre. Think of that for Haines township. By the time the L. C. & S. C. R. R. is completed, the price of land in Pennsvalley will be so high according to the above, that it will take a millionare to purchase a farm. Farmers of Pennsvalley push on your Railroad. Pay up your stock, for you will soon have nothing to do but sit across legged and count your money.

THE LOGAN.—The first fire company organized in this place for many years is the "Logan." It is composed of good sturdy boys who make a point never to be behind at a fire. They are indeed a very efficient and brave company of men, and by their faithfulness and activity saved in the past two years thousands of dollars to our citizens. The following, which we clip from the Altoona Tribune, shows in what estimation this gallant company is held away from home:

The Bellefonte Watchman says the fall for benefit of the Logan Fire Company, of that place, was a complete failure, and raps the citizens of the aristocratic town over the knuckles for their ingratitude. The Logan Company is truly a deserving organization and we are sorry to hear their efforts to increase the efficiency of the company for the extinguishment of fires would receive such requisite financial encouragement from the citizens. They can't appreciate genuine worth.

BUILDING ASSOCIATION.—It is a fact. Bellefonte has a Building and Loan Association. It organized on last Saturday night. The deepest interest seems to be felt in this enterprise. On last Saturday night, as will be seen by the report of the Secretary, the officers were elected. The rooms of the Y. M. C. A. were crowded until there was scarcely standing room. We were pleased to see this. The mechanics and working men of our borough, all appear to realize the great advantages, to them, which are to spring from this Association. It is paying rent that keeps the poorman poor. It is an old saying that two moves is as bad as one fire. The object of the Building and Loan Association is to so aid the workingman that he can become the owner of his own property—his own landlord, and thus do away with the necessity of paying rent, or moving every year. The money paid for rent for the privilege of living in some other persons house, if saved would buy the same house in ten years. Then why should not every working man become a member of the Association, and thus, in a few years become independent? It is, workingmen, a question worthy your serious consideration.

Edmund Wrigley, author of a work on Building & Loan Associations, gives the following example:

"A tenant, renting a house at $15 per month, will pay to his landlord $180 per year, or $1,800 in ten years, while the same money, paid to a Building Association, will buy the same house, (or at least a greater part of it) within a period of from eight to ten years. Now, if a hard pressed working-man can save nothing more than this item of rent out of the entire proceeds of his labor, is it not better to do so than not to attempt to save at all? Is it not better than to absolutely throw it away forever by paying it as rent?"

This is perfectly clear, and within the comprehension of every man. Who would pay rent when he can himself, on this mutual principle, become owner of the house?

There is one thing, however, which is not clear to us. According to the By-Laws as adopted by the Association on last Saturday night, no stockholder can borrow money from the Association without first securing the same by bond and mortgage. Now, the question arises in our mind, How can a man who does not own a foot of land get money from the Association? How can he give a bond and mortgage when he has not a foot of land in this world?—

"No cottage in this wilderness"

We are answered, Oh! he must save enough to secure a building lot. How is the hard-driven workingman to do this, we ask, when he is already straining every nerve and practicing the strictest economy for the purpose of paying up his monthly dues? In our opinion there is something wrong here, grossly wrong to the workingman, which should be remedied at the next monthly meeting, or before the Association proceeds any further.

Let us start right, and there will be no fears of discord in the Association for the next ten years. Why not have the By-Laws, so constructed and worded that a man who is not the owner of real estate and who cannot, therefore, give Bond and Mortgage security, may have his house built by a contractor, under the supervision of the officers or Directors of the Association—the money paid out to said contractor as needed, and when the house or building is completed, then take a Bond and Mortgage on the said building as security? We throwout these hints not in a critical spirit, but with a view to ellicit discussion—information, if you please on this subject. We confess we cannot see whence the advantage to the workingman or the small stockholder under the present By-law.

REVIVAL.—A Protracted Meeting was commenced, eight or ten days since, in the M. E. Church in this place Rev. Jas Mullen pastor. It is still in progress and we understand that it is the intention of Rev. Mullen to continue it until the conference meets in March next. Some forty persons have professed religion and yet the alter is crowded every night with anxious, earnest seekers for the pearl of great price. On last Sabbath evening the church was crowded as we never saw it crowded before. It was impossible to seat the audience, and therefore fully two hundred who had come to hear the word of God proclaimed, were compelled to return to their homes disappointed. Rev. Mullen preached a most excellent sermon full of pathos and power, dotted wittily, and when he closed his remarks, and the invitation was given, to all serious persons to come out to the Alter of prayer, there were some twenty or twenty-five responded.

It is one of the most precious revivals that Bellefonte has witnessed for for these many years. And yet the good work goes on. May it continue to progress and spread until every family and every individual may feel its hallowed influences.

By Postponement. Those of our readers to whom we sent bills, will do us a great kindness by responding promptly. We need our money, other wise we would not trouble you. Punctuality is the life of business.

For the REPUBLICAN.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN; Dear Sir:—Of all the concerns in which we Americans are interested there is none more important, perhaps, than education. Whatever, therefore, has for its object the enlargement and elevation of mind, it is but fitting that we extend to it at least a word of encouragement.

In this free land there are many institutions at which our future men and women are in course of preparation for their life-work. Not the least among these, and in our own State too, is the Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport. Visit it and you meet first the urbane stewart, Prof. Richards; this is the "Open Sesame" to an interesting tour through the institution. You may meet Prest. Spottswood also, whose whole bearing will impress you with the fact that here is a christian, earnest, devoted, efficient. You bask in his smiles for awhile and then go away to feel happy for a week afterwards.

In the institution there are about one hundred and twenty five students, male and female, eighty of whom are boarders. There are three societies; the 'Gramma Epsilon,' the 'Belles-Letters,' and the 'Tripartite Union.' Throughout your visit you will find the students kind and courteous toward one another—a very estimable feature, owing, perhaps, to the influence of the ladies. An argument in favor of the co-education of the sexes.

The site of the building is high and therefore healthful; whilst the campus (without the line of demarkation) is a delightful one. Happy must be those students who enjoy the privileges of Dickinson.

Does any parent doubt the benefit or practicability of educating the sexes together? Let him visit the Dickinson Seminary and have his doubts dispelled. Our sympathies are with those institutions of learning that, professing to do so at all, do not end with mere circular profession in this matter of co-education of the sexes.

Truly Yours,

BELLEFONTE, Jan. 16, '72. J. E. R.

GREEN'S Worm Expeller is the most reliable article in the market.

For the REPUBLICAN.

AWFUL DISCOVERY.—Now that the time has come when cows are tied up to the trough during winter, five, eight or ten of them in one stable, which causes them to be very close together, and I am loath to say that these stables, many of them are cleaned out but once a week, consequently the cow that is, by nature, a cleanly animal, has to lay in her own droppings until her sides, flanks and hips become completely saturated with dung, juice and wattles. Now think of the milk maid sproaching one of these stables with her sleeves rolled up to the shoulders, and a large slop bonnet on as an ordinary screen, taking hold of the slimey teats of these cows, with a mortal effort to keep down nausea. After she has agitated the cows bag sufficient to bring down a gallon of milk, how much of this filth do you suppose there is mingled with the milk. It is completely peppered over the top with the lighter particles, while the heavier has sunk to the bottom of the bucket. Now all the water in the pool of Silome would not wash that milk clean—the strainer to the contrary notwithstanding. It is no falt of the milk maid—the fault is with the man of the house and stable; and the man who keeps such stables had better take warning when he hears a howl for women's rights. Let him be assured that when women become a majority in the Legislature, that such men will be attended to, and acts passed compeling them to milk their dirty cows themselves. Some of the Pennsylvania dutch will be made very yankees of before they know what they are about—the yankee men pail the cow but we don't see their cows in such a hoch poch as above described. If this article should make any improvement upon the whole, our object shall have been accomplished.

AT a meeting of the Bellefonte Building and Loan Association held on last Saturday evening, the following persons were elected officers for the ensuing year:

President—Daniel Rhoads.
Vice President—Wm. V. Hughes.
Treasurer—J. D. Shugert.
Solicitor—Geo. M. Yocum.
Secretary—Wm. P. Duncan.
Directors—S. S. Lyon, E. A. Nolan, James A. Beaver, Jno. H. Orvis, D. G. Rhoads, J. P. Green.

The regular monthly meeting, for the payment of dues will be held at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., Saturday evening, Jan. 27, at 7 o'clock, P. M., at which time all the stockholders are requested to be present, as it is important to have the dues on every share paid in at that time. All the money paid in will be sold the same evening. Persons not able to attend the meeting can send the amount of their dues—which will be one dollar for each share of stock subscribed. Persons wishing to take stock can do so until Saturday next, when the books will be closed.

For the REPUBLICAN.

LOVEVILLE, Jan. 12th, 1872.

COL. BROWN; Dear Sir: I have been watching the locals of your paper in the hope of seeing something from the public schools of the county, but in vain. Last winter quite a number of teachers throughout the county had a report of their schools published, have they come to the conclusion that it don't pay, if such is the case allow me to inform them through the columns of your paper, that it does pay, and that well. When I took charge of the school at this place I said nothing about publishing a report of the school for the first month, and that month had a percentage of 78 total. At the commencement of the second month I told the pupils that at the end of that month I should send in a report of the school to the county paper, and have it published, and what was the result? The percentage of this month is increased to 88 a gain of 10 per cent. Now say it does not pay, for certainly where we have good attendance we can have good schools. Mark those pupils who attend regularly (and I have several of them,) and you will find those are the very ones who make rapid progress in all their studies. Notice that girl or boy who when their class is called is always on hand, and when a question is asked them spring to their feet to answer it almost before it leaves the lips of the teacher, now examine the monthly report of that school and you will find a 21 or 22 opposite that pupils name every month. I should like to write more on this subject, and on many others connected with the public schools, but fear this is too long already my pupils are progressing finely taking a deep interest in all their studies, showing that they intend to be men and women in every sense of the word. Report, for month ending, Jan. 11, 1872: Whole number in attendance 33: Percentage of attendance 88: Branches of study—Mental Arithmetic 28: Written Arithmetic 28: Geograpey 20: Grammar 7: Reading 29: Writing 29: Spelling 1000 Words in Sanders Union Speller commencing on page 107 Ex., 349.

COUNTY PAPERS.—The Editor who penned the following, understood his business well, and his arguments must put to shame, those who are constantly threatning to stop their county paper, because it does not give sufficient reading matter. We hold that a county paper is better worth $5,00 per annum to its reader, than is a city paper at $2,00. Here is what he says:

"We sometimes meet individuals who complain about their county paper and cease to take it, preferring to subscribe for a city paper. They do not seem to comprehend the facts in relation to the publication and support of papers. In the first place, the terms of nearly all city papers are the same as the county.—$2 for a single copy, and the only way they get them for less than that price is by clubbing; and sending for a number of copies at a time. Then again they must invariably send the money in advance, which they seldom do for county papers. But the principal difference consists in the fact that it costs the publisher of the county paper the same to set his type that it does the city publisher, and setting the type is the principal expense in publishing a newspaper of small circulation. After the type is once set the expense is then merely for blank paper and press work, and the paper with a hundred thousand subscribers, has the advantage at two dollars. Of course the large city papers contain a greater amount of reading matter than the county papers, but which is the most useful and interesting? Do they contain notices of our schools, churches, meetings, marriages, and hundreds of other local matters of interest which the county papers publish without pay? Not an item. Do they ever say a word calculated to draw attention to our county and to its numerous thriving towns, and aid in our progress and enterprise? Not a line. And yet there are men who take the contracted view of this matter that unless they are getting as many square inches of reading matter in their county paper as they do in a city paper, they are not getting the worth of their money. It reminds us of the person who takes the largest pair of boots in the box, simply because they cost the same as the pair much smaller that fit."

PRIEST AGAINST BISHOP.—We devote several columns of this number of the REPUBLICAN, to a history of the difficulty existing in the Catholic Church at Williamsport. It is, we think, the most correct account, which has been published of this difficulty. Next week we will publish an article from the Freemans Jonrnal, (a Catholic paper) which views the affais in an entirely different light. Persons wishing extra copies of the REPUBLICAN should send in their orders immediately.

The Pittsburgh Commercial!

A PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE!

The "Presidential year" is always a reading year with the American people. It imposes extraordinary duties on journals from which the people may usually expect not only the news of the day, but intelligent discussion of public questions and enunciation of opinions.—While this is true in a general sense, the year before us is likely, in a political sense, to be one of unsual interest;—the Democratic party is breaking up, and there are indications of alliances and purposes altogether novel in our politics. The elections of the past year have resulted in almost an unbroken series of Republican victories. General Grant's administration his received the unequivocal indorsement of the American people; and there is every indication now that, as the Republican candidate, he will be re-elected President. As an INDEPENDENT REPUBLICAN PAPER the COMMERCIAL will in the future, as in the past, render an undeviating support to Republican Principles, holding that the good of the Republic requires that the Government should remain in the hands of the party that saved it in the great life-or-death struggle. In the future as in the past it will speak its own views regarding men and measures, holding that through free discussion only can safe conclusions be reached and the independence of the press preserved. In this regard we can say simply that the COMMERCIAL will be true to itself and its established character.

As a Newspaper, nothing will be spared to maintain the position which the COMMERCIAL has always held among the leading journals of the day, for news enterprise as well for independent opinions. This year, at home and abroad, will be full of interest. European politics are agitated, and the American reader will likely find much in them to attract his attention. At home all is life and push. Railroads are being constructed everywhere; new projects are almost daily proclaimed; population is increasing; enterprise intelligently directed was never so well rewarded, and the prospect for the wonderful activities of our country is, to say the least, extremely encouraging. With all these things the COMMERCIAL is intimately identified, and as a Business Paper, at the center of the greatest manufacturing district on the continent, has constantly in view whatever of interest readers may reasonably expect to see in its columns,—especially carefully prepared marked reports manufacturing intelligence and general news, collected at home and from abroad.

To our patrons we have only words of cheer. With some of our readers we have held pleasant relations for yerrs. It will be our aim to deserve the continuance of these relations for many years to come. We feel proud in the fact that the COMMERCIAL wields an influence second to no journal in the State. Its readers as a general thing are the influential, intelligent classes. In a circle of hundreds of miles, embracing nearly the whole of Pennsylvania, much of Ohio, West Virginia and States beyond, it is the favorite in the counting-house, the office, the store and the family, especially of business and cultivated classes. To hold this place will be our constant effort.

"HOW TO GO WEST."—Forty years ago, Illinois was as far West as most people wished to go, and journeys were made in the legendary "Prairie Schooner," but in these days of Progress and Improvement, the word West has come to mean Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, California and the Territories, and the Traveler reaches almost any point therein by a splendid Line of Railroad.

This Line of Railroad is the Burlington Route, which starts from Chicago over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R., from Indianapolis over the Indianapolis, Bloomington & Wester Short Line, and from Logansport, over the Toledo, Peoria & Warsaw R. R., and running through BURLINGTON, reaches Omaha, Lincoln, Nebraska City, St, Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth and Kansas City, connecting with the Union Pacific, Kansas, Pacific and other Railroads running from those cities.

Always go "By way of Burlington," and you will be sure to be right,

The Burlington Route has admirably answered the question, "How to go West?" by the publication of a truthful and interesting document, filled with facts in regard to Time, Connections, Accommodations, rates of Fare and other interesting items, and illustrated by a large map, truthfully showing the whole West, which they distribute free of charge. Copies, and additional information, can be obtained by addressing, General Passenger Agent, B. & M. R. R., Burlington, Iowa. 4-3-3m.

BROKERHOFF HOUSE.—This House, now under the management of D. Johnson & Sons, is certainly one of the best, if not the very best, house in this county or in Central Pennsylvania. Mr. Johnson, himself is an experienced landlord, having been engaged in the business for years, and having in that time, gained for himself a reputation which is not confined to Pennsylvania; but is known to the traveling community throughout the entire country. The Sons are honest, industrious, accomodating young men, and are always on the alert, looking after the interests of their guests and studying how they may add still further to their comfort.

The Bar is under the supervision of that prince of Bar Keepers S. S. Rice. He is emphatically the right man in the right place. One of the best dinners ever served in this town was that given by D. Johnson & Sons on Christmas last. But it is not only on Christmas that there table groans with the good things of earth, it is every day and every meal. In short, it is a first clas Hotel, a credit to the town and country, and an honor to its Proprietors D. Johnson & Sons.

IRA C. MITCHELL, ESQ.:

"BELLEFONTE, PA., Oct. 27, 1871.

Sir:—I have just had the pleasure of meeting your Agent, the first representative of "Hoofland's German Bitters" and "Hoofland's German Tonic," it has ever been my good fortune to meet. For many years I have been purchasing and using them to the great comfort of myself, family and friends, having commenced their use on the recommendations of the Supreme Court Judges of this State. It affords me pleasure to have the opportunity to voluntarily recommend the same to all of my friends and acquaintances who may be suffering from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Billiousness or affections of the Liver, of any kind.

Very Respectfully,
IRA C. MITHELL."

These medicines are and have been well known to the community for the last twenty-five years, as genuine, reliable and deserving remedies for the diseases mentioned in the above certificate. Those afflicted should not fail to use them. Sold by all Druggists. C. M. EVANS, Proprietor, 631, Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 3-50-1y

MARRIED.

On the 16th, inst., by Rev. James Mullen, Mr. H. S. Pletcher, of Howard, and Miss Eliza Meese, of Bellefonte.

DIED.

On the evening of the 7th inst., in Bellefonte, Miss Lidie Sourbeck, aged 17 years and 10 month.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A CARD.—We take this method of saying that there is no truth in the reports that have been circulated, "that we intend quitting the coal business as soon as our present supply is sold out." On the contrary we have on hands now and intend to keep on hand a well selected stock of the best Anthracite coal in the market.

FOR SALE.—The splendid mill property known as "Oak Hall," situate in Harris township, this county is now offered for sale. For full particulars as to price and terms inquire at the office of the Bellefonte REPUBLICAN. 43-tf

WHEN DOCTORS DISAGREE.

Where can patients look for relief? The experience of every Dyspeptic tends to prove that the proper method of treatment of that wide spread disease, Dyspepsia, is not to be found in any of the regular schools of medicine. You cannot find any three physicians who will agree upon this point; each has some pet theory of his own; and each patient is but in truth a subject for experiment. The only effectual remedy for this terrible scourge is

MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS.

It alone is certain and uniform it its effects. It has cured thousands and will cure you. 1y5-1

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

ONE THOUSAND SUFFER FROM IT.—A Weak, Nervous, Exhausted Feeling, no Energy, Animation of Vigor, Low Spirits, Confused Head, Weak Memory, Nocturnal or Involuntary Seminal Emissions, With Loss of Power and Threatened Impotence. The consequent of excesses, overwork or indiscretions. This is NERVOUS DEBILITY, and it finds a sovereign remedy in HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFIC No. TWENTY-EIGHT. Thousands have been cured by these simple sugar pills. They tone up the system, arrest the discharges, dispel the gloom and mental depression, and rejuvenate the system. Price $1 for a package of five boxes and a vial of power, which is important in al old long-standing cases, or $1 per single box Sold by all first-class druggists, and sent to any address on receipt of the price. Address HUMPHREYS' SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC MEDICINE CO., 562 Broadway, New York. v3n14-1y.
